Join us for a screening of this award-winning film and an evening of dialogue about what matters most for students today. (Doors open at 4:30pm.)

Most likely to succeed aims to foster meaningful discussion about the possibilities of focusing on the interests of the student rather than standardised scores. It introduces compelling new approaches that aim to transform learning as we know it.

This screening is brought to you by the Australian Learning Lecture <sup>[2]</sup> (ALL), a joint project of the Koshland Innovation Fund and State Library Victoria. It is made possible through the generosity of the Department of Education and Training in an endeavour to keep the conversation alive and encourage change.

About the film

Directed by acclaimed documentary-maker Greg Whiteley, Most likely to succeed has been an official selection of two dozen of the world's top film festivals, including Sundance, Tribeca, and AFI DOCS.
